General Information Patagonia packages

Airline and baggage arrival delays unfortunately can happen hence the extra day on arrival to be safe and not to delay the excursion out of El Calafate. There is limited lodging available in the areas we will visit therefore timing is important.

The weather in Patagonian summer usually is friendly but there might be the occasional light rain or fog in the early mornings with the day getting warm around the afternoon. Please plan your clothing accordingly. Several layer clothing is highly recommended. A t-shirt – sweatshirt – waterproof hooded jacket combo with long underwear to use in waders is perfect.

Salmon fishing – casting heavy lures in very strong current fast flowing mostly shallow glacier rivers and river pools. Fly fishing possible although not as productive.

Trout fishing – casting spinners and light lures in lagoons and rivers. Heavier lures in Strobel lake area. Excellent fly fishing conditions in El Roble/ Strobel lake area.

Things to bring :

- High degree sun protection (lotion, hat, sun glasses)
- Although most of places accept intl. credit cards it is recommendable to bring some cash in American currency
- Water resistant hooded jacket and multi-layer clothing
- Water resistant backpack
- Long underpants to use in waders
- Solid footwear
- Photo copy of travel documents & international travel and health insurance

Do not hesitate to contact us with further questions regarding travel logistics or the trip in general. We are looking forward to hear from you.
